Dear BOLIDE subscribers,

As you see from the thickness of Dossier 3, there is no shortage of material on our subject. I am particularly glad, however, to include Leif Havik's update on Hessdalen, and Claude Maugé's commentary on previous items ; I like to think that these documents are not simply being filed away for reference, but actually used to generate further ideas - perhaps even new hypotheses.

Many signs are apparent that significant findings are imminent in the interaction between, on the one hand, natural forces such as atmospheric and geophysical magnetic fields, and on the other hand physiological responses from animals and humans (not to mention plants). I have visions of a huge mix involving (inter alia) -

- BOLs that don't harm people
- people that do harm electrical equipment
- electrical operations that generate BOLs
- people who are sensitive to storms
- storms that generate BOLs
- BOLs that pass through solid matter
- 'electric girls' who move objects at a distance
- the electro-magnetic aspects of 'poltergeist' phenomena (eg the Rosenheim case)
- BOLs that guide people, either in their own form or by metamorphosing into entities
- objects that pass through solid matter in the presence of specially 'gifted' persons who may also be the same persons with other electrical properties...and so on and so on...

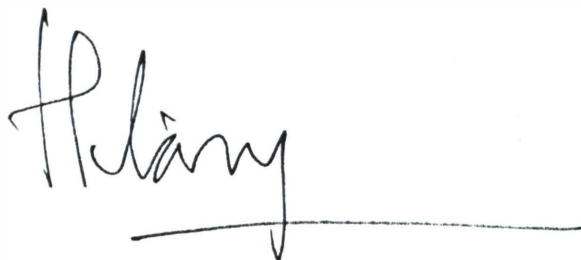

The hard scientists among our number won't take kindly to the 'occult' elements in this mix ; equally, those who are committed to a metaphysical belief-systems won't care for the apparent reductionism of linking 'psychic' gifts to physiological processes. But I hope that all of we BOLIDE subscribers are sufficiently open-minded at least to contemplate such links.

And I hope that some of us will go further, and explore them. If nobody else does, I will maybe have a go myself, in a few years time - but I would very much rather it was done by someone with first-hand scientific expertise. Or maybe some of us should contemplate a combined effort ? I'm open to suggestions.

On more mundane matters, I have to say that with this dossier your subscription is now used up. If you wish to continue receiving BOLIDE, please send me £10, $15, or the equivalent in other currencies, preferably in banknotes. Sent 4.6.87

I remind you that your subscription is simply to cover my material costs of copying and postage. There is no question of profit or loss. You are welcome to copy BOLIDE material and pass it on to friends, indeed because it saves me work, I encourage you to do this ! I will be happy to include the names of such 'second generation' readers in the list of contributors, so that others are aware of their interest. But do please point out, when passing material on, that this is simply a data exchange, and they must not infringe copyright of the items.

Good wishes to you all,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read 'Henry', followed by a long horizontal line.
